A month ago, a boy called Joe went to an animal shelter to choose his favourite pet. He saw a dog that had brown hair with black dots. He fell in love with it and decided to buy it immediately although it cost $1000. After that, he named his first dog as Buddy and thought his life will be better and happier because of this dog, but things were not always going smoothly.

One day, Joe went to a park with Buddy for a walk. Suddenly, Buddy tried to escape and ran everywhere. Joe shouted, 'Stop, Buddy!' Unfortunately, Buddy was energetic and uncontrollable. It seemed it did not listen to him and continued to escape. He did not have enough power to pull it back, so he chased after it. Fortunately, it stopped and watched the flowers. He caught it finally and brought it back home. He was extremely tired.

At dinner, when Joe was preparing, Buddy sat down next to him. Buddy found his favourite sausages on the worktop. All of a sudden, it stole one of the sausages and rushed out of the kitchen. Joe yelled,

'Put down that sausage, Naughty Buddy!'

However, Buddy did not listen, but ran around mouthing the sausage. To make things worse, Buddy knocked down the lamp and it was broken. Joe screamed hopelessly,

'My lamp!'

Joe was annoyed at Buddy and decided to take it to a pet training school.

The next day, Joe came to a pet training school with Buddy which was called 'Pet Expert'. Joe told his problems to a trainer. The trainer said,

'Don't worry. We will help you to train your dog. We have some successful cases. For example, we have successfully reformed naughty pets to well-behaved ones.'

Joe trusted the trainer and she started to train Buddy.

At first, Joe used a fishing rod with some meat to train Buddy, but he failed as Buddy quickly grabbed the meat and ate it. Then he tried to get some help from the trainer. She said,

'You should have patience and care!'

At last, Joe successfully trained Buddy and turned it from a naughty to a well-behaved dog. The trainer congratulated Joe,

'Congratulations! You have trained your dog better than ever!'

Joe became experienced and went home with Buddy. This time Buddy did not behave badly and walked normally with Joe!
