Chief of English Ambassador

5A Jacky Louie (LOUIE KA CHUN)

"Yes, I do." This positive reply to Miss Chow's invitation to become the Chief English Ambassador didn't come easily. Despite having been the Vice English Ambassador for one year, I felt it took more than experience to take up the role of Chief English Ambassador. It's natural that we don't think we are good enough or there is always someone who is more deserving of the job. Without the encouragement of Miss Chow, I would not have believed that I could fit the bill.

This has been a successful year, with a range of activities organised. The highlights were the inauguration ceremony and the English week. English ambassadors work as a team to work towards the goals we set to achieve. Effective coordination and close collaboration among the team have been essential.

I am indebted to the team of teachers who have been very supportive and have chosen to place their trust in us. A big thank you to Miss Chow and Mr. Chan. Rather than monitoring us, they are consultants whom we turn to for advice. They give us the recognition we need to carry on with our job well.

The experience of being an English ambassador has been rewarding and value added. Not only are we able to better equip ourselves for future challenges by honing leadership and communication skills, we also feel empowered to have been able to make a difference in school by creating and sustaining an English-speaking environment conducive to language learning.
